have leisure to do so. Already, as may be seen by the statement of a correspondent, numerous cheep Sunday excursion trains run from Lon-don into every part of the country, while here in New York, which boasts to be the Empire City of the model republic of the worldthe most free government on the face of the earth—the population are "cribbed cabined, confined" as in a huge prison, and the result is that too many drink to excess and indulge in other pernicious vices, because deprived of those outdoor recreations which are natural and healthful. Religion is made odious and repulsive to the people by using compulsion, and by the hypocrisy of the clergy who set an example of patronising the exhibition of a naked Venus, while they raise an outcry against the newsboys and innocent Sunday amuse ments. If the people of New York who have all the power in their own hands, while the people of London have comparatively little, will only imitate the example of the Londoners, they will not only have cheap Sunday excursion trains to every point of the compass, but a complete exemption from all the restraints of bigotry and ecclesiastical despotism which ought not to be tolerated in this land of SENATORIAL NOMINATIONS.—The democrats of the Fourth District In this city, seem to be considerably exercised with regard to their choice of a candidate for the State Senate, at the com ing election. If they want a man of talent, energy and character; one who will do credit to them in every way, and promote the interests of the city, effectually, against partisan legislation, they cannot do better than to decide upon such a man as Mr. John McLeod Murphy. His past services to the city and country are well known, and entitle him to consideration and the integrity with which he would exercise the functions of a legislator at Albany make it desirable that he should occupy a seat in the Senate during the coming period.

THE PROPOSED INTERNATIONAL MATCH OF BASE BALL WITH THE ELEVEN OF ALL ENGLAND .- It was stated yesterday that the Eleven of All England had offered to play a match of base ball with the best American players to be found in New York and Brooklyn-the match to be for $5,000, and to come off when they had disposed of their engagements at cricket in the United States and Canada. This report, we are sorry to learn, is not true. If the English Eleven had consented to play, the match would have been one of the most interesting and exciting contests of muscle and skill on record.

In connection with this point we refer to a communication in another column. We also publish an article giving a full description of the games of base ball and cricket, comparing them in the points in which they coincide, and contrasting them with those in which they differ. This article, which is intended solely for the uninitiated, and is divested as much as possible of technical slang, will enable those who do not understand the two games to appreciate them, and when they see them played again to enjoy an intelligible sport, instead of looking at unmeaning movements which could not possess any interest for them.

Base ball is a game deserving of encouragement. Its tendency is healthful both in a moral and physical point of view. In the last four years it has made wonderful progress both in this city and Brooklyn. It is a game eminently sulted to the American people, and may be regarded as now established, the foremost among their national sports.

DEATH IN THE MINISTRY.

The veneratio Rev. Samuel Willard, D. D., of Deerfield, Mass., died in that town on the 8th inst., in the eighty-third year of his age. For half a century he has been a most acceptable preacher. The corner stone of a Baptist church was laid at Bridgeport, Come, on the 6th inst. It is to cost $14,000.

At a late meeting of the congregation of the Reformed Presbyterian church, in Chicago, of which Rev. Robert Patterson is pastor, it was unanimously resolved to rebuild immediately on the old site.

New churches are being erected in Trenton, N. J., by the Methodists, Baptisis and Presbyterians, and the Episcopalisis and Lutherans contemplate adding to the number at an early day. The State street Methodist church, at the corner of State and Stockton streets, is approaching completion. The new Central Baptist church is also progressing rapidly. This will be the largest church edicin the city. The congregation of the Fourth Presbyterian church are erecting their new building on the corner of State and Clinton streets.

A new Methodist church was dedicated at Washington, Middlescy county, N. J., on the 9th inst. It is a large, substantial edifice. There is connected with this new organization a very interesting incident. An old lady 81 years of age, who was born in Middlescy county, became wealthy and settled in the city of New York. But she felt like doing something for her native piace; so she despatched an attorney to the village of Washington to propose a denation of $1,000 towards the building of a church, and a parmise of $600 more at her death. The attorney found a number of Methodist people there willing to take hold of the enterprise. On the day of dedication, the old lady was herself present, and was delighted with the fine appearance of the editic her own liberality aided in raising. She gave a contribution of $20, and after all that had been collected, there was still $1,000 impaid. The old lady delighted all present by pledging the payment of this balance at ther death, and thus set the new church entirely free from debt.

AN ASSISTANT EECTOR IN TRINITY CRUECH.

The Church Journal says—On the evening of Wednesday, Sept. 28, the first day of our Diocesan Convention, a very une specied event took place in Trinity vestry. The Rector nominated the Rev. Morgan Dix as Assistant Rector—an effice authorized by the charter, but which has been in abeyance for more than a quarter of a century, and how much longer we do not know. He was elected on the spot. The Revenuent, we believe, was kept in entirescreey until a couple of days before the charter, and in the parish, of the whole corps of eight assistant mainstore, we understand that the other seven sent in to the vestry are quest for delay in a matter of such importance, urging that in filling a vacancy among the vestry—a body repewable every year—a month's notice was saways given previous to election; and that in the present case there was no cases whatever for immediate action; but if a request was entirely disregarded. The Rev. Mr. D. x. we learn, has accepted the appointment.

THE PRESSTERIANS OF WISCONEIN ON SLAVENT The following resolutions of the Pressysterian and Congregational Convention of Wisconsin, which was held in Janesville during the last week in September:—

Whereas, This convention being an organized and constitutional body, representing a large number of the inhisters and churches of the last week man september.—

Whereas, This convention being an organized and convening from year to year for religious worship, and the review of religious subjects, regards its mission as in part to defend the truth, expose error and rebuke injudity; and.

Whereas, An institution still exists in our beloved dountry, which, by human selfishness and the strong arm of the law, enslaves four millions of our fellow beings, providing for and enforcing the involuntary separation of families, the sale of human beings, body and soul, in the market, the keeping back of the hire of the laborer," the donial of the proper education and the reading of the word of God, and aiding in the prestitution of the pure and virtuous to the most vile purposes; therefore,

1. Resolved, That so long as this "som of all villanies," continues to pollute and degrade our country, our voice must be often and repeatedly raised against it.

2. Resolved, That we regard the voluntary claim made by one human being on another, as itself ain, and all the signoits of six-wholding which involve that dam as also sincul, and an aboundation in the sight of God.

3. Resolved, That we regard the voluntary claim made by one human being on another, as itself ain, and all the signoits of six-wholding to the reverse with many members of the Presbyterian church (old school), we look with pain and regret upon the fact that that body do not give their testimony, nor employ the power of church discipline to clear all their membership from the sin of claiming and holding their fellow men as chattels, liable t

by instituting discipline against all withit slavenouses in their communion.

7. Resolved, That when we remember that God is just, and is the friend of the oppressed in every nation, we look with sadness and great fear for our country upon the recent reopening or great increase of the slave trade between Africa and the slave States of this Union, as well as upon the internal slave trade among the slave States themselves, and we deprecate the abolition of the laws of the land against the foreign slave trade, which we fear is to be attempted, and call upon the members of our churches to pray and to act wherever they can against it.
